

CHAMINADE UNIVERSITY of HONOLULU

68TH COMMENCEMENT

SPRING 2026 | FRIDAY, MAY 8-9, 2026 | WAIKĪKĪ SHELL

MESSAGE from the PRESIDENT

Congratulations, graduates!

We are overjoyed to welcome you and your loved ones to Chaminade University's 68th Commencement Ceremonies. Today is your day—an opportunity to celebrate your achievements and recognize the challenges you have overcome in pursuit of your academic studies. It is our honor to join you to mark this significant milestone in your personal and professional life.

Graduation exercises are a time-honored tradition in academia, commemorating not only the successful completion of your degree but also all the hard work and dedication required to achieve it. Today, there will be tears of joy. Hearts swelling with pride. Big hugs and warmly offered lei. Amid the whirlwind of activity, I encourage you to seek out a moment to reflect on your journey at Chaminade and all the ways you have grown as a citizen and a changemaker.

After all, today you are closing one chapter in your life, as a Chaminade student, and beginning another—as a Silversword graduate. In doing so, you are joining an impressive global network of alumni who are inspirational leaders in their fields, showing us every day what it means to employ skills, vision and creativity to make a positive difference. I expect nothing less from you. With all that you have learned at Chaminade, and all the ways you have put that learning into action in service to others, you are well-equipped to excel as a transformational community leader.

As you go out to pursue those new goals, and accomplish them, I encourage you to recall the inspirational words of our University's namesake, Blessed Father Chaminade. He said, "We must not become discouraged if we encounter some obstacle in the way of necessary change. Never has change been done and never will it be done without difficulty." In other words, change is hard—but important. And working together, as part of one Silversword 'ohana, our impact will only grow.

You are not in this alone. While your academic accomplishments are your own, I am certain there were many loved ones, mentors, friends and cheerleaders who helped you on your pathway to graduation and are standing beside you as you look to the future. Today is your day, but it is their day, too. Allow me to join you in thanking them for the innumerable ways they supported, encouraged, and inspired you—so that you could grow to become the person you are today.

We are so proud of all that you have achieved and as you set out on your next steps in life, know that we truly cannot wait to see all the "necessary change" you have yet to bring to our community. With your leadership, skills, innovation and energy, there is no limit to your positive impact.

Wishing you the greatest success,

Lynn M. Babington, Ph.D.
President, Chaminade University of Honolulu

HISTORY of CHAMINADE

In 1955, the Marianists founded Saint Louis Junior College. Two years later, the college became a four-year coeducational institution and got a new name. Its fitting namesake: Father William Chaminade (1761-1850), the founder of the Society of Mary and a social reformer who saw education as a way of transforming society for the better. In 1977, Chaminade added its first graduate programs—and received a final name change to reflect the expansion: Chaminade University of Honolulu.

Since its founding, Chaminade has undergone significant growth. The only Catholic university in the islands, Chaminade boasts world-class academic programs, a faculty of widely recognized scholars and a student body of innovators—tomorrow's ethical leaders in a diversity of fields. We prepare students for success with 27 undergraduate and 11 graduate degree programs, mentorship, career development opportunities and a network of academic advising and other support.

While we've grown as an institution, adding state-of-the-art facilities and incorporating modern educational practices along the way, we remain driven by our founding values: to educate the whole student—mind and spirit—and help each of them seek out ways to make positive change in the world.

MISSION

Guided by its Catholic, Marianist and liberal arts traditions, Chaminade prides itself on its robust academic offerings, thriving campus community and rich development opportunities for students. But what makes Chaminade unique is its service-oriented mission: a commitment to create an environment that drives students, faculty members, administrators and staff to build a more just, peaceful society. Through hands-on learning and service projects, we prepare our students for success in their careers.

CHARACTERISTICS of A MARIANIST EDUCATION

A Marianist education considers the whole student, valuing critical academic inquiry, personal growth and service to others. Educational practice in the Marianist tradition has five distinctive characteristics:

- We educate for formation in faith, helping students with the search for meaning in their lives.
- We provide an integral quality education, feeding educational passions and creating lifelong learners.
- We educate in family spirit, forming a warm, welcoming 'ohana on campus that supports all students.
- We educate for service, justice, peace and the integrity of creation, committing ourselves every day to the common good.
- We educate for adaptation and change, recognizing that "new times call for new methods."

PRESIDENTIAL INSIGNIA

The insignia of the Office of the President at Chaminade University honors Chaminade's past while valuing its present and looking forward to the future. The insignia depicts a special medallion, worn by the president on occasions of note, which is suspended from four woven strands of Ni'ihau shells.

The medallion comprises six polished kukui nut shells, each with a symbolic relief: water, to represent the original home of the Marianist community in Honolulu; the rare lokelani rose, to honor Mary, mother of Jesus; the crest of the Society of Mary impressed on three crescents, which is the symbol for Bordeaux where the Society of Mary was founded; cherubs on mountains, representing the University's home; a dove to symbolize the Holy Spirit; and the flaming sword or silversword.

CHAMINADE UNIVERSITY MACE

The tradition of the academic mace, or ceremonial staff, dates back to medieval Europe. Today, ceremonial maces are carried at the head of processions, including at the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.K. Parliament. In Chaminade’s academic tradition, the mace-bearer is the Faculty Senate president.

Chaminade’s mace includes a depiction of shooting flames symbolic of a flaming sword. Engraved into ‘ōhi’a lehua wood medallions on each side of the mace is the University’s motto: Vita in Verbo (Life in the Word). Both the head and handle of the mace are made of curly koa, a rare native wood.

The mace was designed by Robb Young ’75 as a gift to Chaminade from Mary Civile.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Why do graduates, professors and administrators wear gowns, hoods and caps at commencement? The origins of formal academic garb date back to the 12th and 13th centuries, when the ordinary dress of the scholar was similar to that of the cleric or the priest. While modern professors and students no longer wear gowns to class, the tradition of academic regalia continues at special ceremonies.

Gowns: At Chaminade’s commencement, gowns are all blue. Gowns for those being conferred bachelor’s degrees have pointed sleeves and a fairly elaborate yoke. The gowns for those receiving master’s degrees have oblong sleeves, open at the wrists. The gown for the doctoral degree can be distinguished by velvet panels on the front and three bars on the bell-shaped sleeves.

Caps: There are several theories on the origin of how the mortarboard became a part of the academic costume. One explanation is that it evolved from the square biretta of Renaissance clergy. Velvet is reserved for those with doctoral degrees. During commencement, the tassel on the cap is switched from right to left when the degree is awarded.

Hoods: The hoods worn during commencement are packed with meaning. They signify the highest degree a person has attained, a scholar’s field of study and the granting institution. They vary in shape, color and length. The colors found on hoods can be used to quickly identify the wearer’s discipline.

CHAMINADE UNIVERSITY of HONOLULU ALUMNI

Aloha Graduates,

On behalf of the entire Chaminade community, it is my distinct pleasure to welcome you to the Chaminade alumni family—a vibrant network of more than 26,000 Silverswords worldwide.

As a Chaminade graduate, you understand the importance of using your knowledge, talents and skill to serve others and know there is no greater reward than making a positive impact. Indeed, as a Chaminade alumna myself, I am continuously impressed with all those who stand beside me in our big Silversword 'ohana. Every day, they set an example of innovation and leadership.

You are undoubtedly a part of that tradition of excellence.

After all, you have worked hard to get to this day. In seeking your degree, you have not only broadened your perspective and knowledge but overcome many obstacles to achieve your goals. And while graduation is an ending, it is also a beginning—full of opportunity and hope.

So as you start out on this new chapter and take steps to pursue your next goals, I strongly encourage you to remain connected to your Chaminade family of alumni. We are here to offer you support, guidance and mentorship—and we cannot wait to see what you accomplish next.

With that, please accept my personal congratulations for all that you have accomplished. Celebrate this momentous day and your many achievements—and know that your Silverword alumni 'ohana will be rooting for you on your next journey, every step of the way.

Sincerely,

Jodi-Anne Yoshida, M.B.A. '23
Director of Alumni Relations

NATIONAL ANTHEM

O say can you see,
By the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed
At the twilight's last gleaming?

Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
Through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched
Were so gallantly streaming?

And the rockets' red glare,
The bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night
That our flag was still there.

O say does that star-spangled banner
yet wave O'er the land of the free
And the home of the brave?
